One of Rumi's most famous poems is "The Guest House." This poem describes the soul as a guest house, and it encourages us to welcome all guests, even those who are difficult or unwelcome. Rumi writes:

“ This being human is a guest house. Every morning a new guest arrives. A joy, a depression, a meanness, some momentary awareness comes as an unexpected visitor. Welcome and entertain them all! Even if they are a crowd of sorrows, who violently sweep your house empty of its furniture, still treat each guest honorably. He may be clearing you out for some new delight. The dark thought, the shame, the malice, meet them at the door laughing, and invite them in. Be grateful for whoever comes, because each has been sent as a guide from beyond. ”

Hafiz

Hafiz was a 14th-century Persian poet. He is known for his beautiful and lyrical poetry, which is full of love, wisdom, and wit. Hafiz's poetry has been translated into many languages and is read by millions of people around the world.

One of Hafiz's most famous poems is "The World Is a Rose." This poem describes the world as a rose, and it encourages us to enjoy the beauty of the world while we can. Hafiz writes:

“ The world is a rose, and we are its thorns. Let us enjoy the beauty of the rose, And not be pricked by its thorns. ”
